Achumawi Database

Summary of November 2021 work

You can download the current backup from

- http://zelligharris.org/Achumawi/achumawi-db.html

I have not updated the webonary.

A different sort of report this month, and a bit of a scramble on the eve of flying to California for work with Pit River friends in the Bancroft archives.

As I have already reported to the O-issi group, sound files comparing de Angulo's pronunciations of Achumawi words and phrases with mine are available at

- https://zelligharris.org/Achumawi/KPFA.htm

This file may also be reached from the Achumawi texts link on the download page; it is at the bottom of the list, the last of the items under de Angulo's name.

Most of my work this month has been in rewriting the paper about Olmsted's 'Palaihnihan' publications. Links to draft chapters are given at the bottom of the collection of texts provided on the downloads site here:

- https://zelligharris.org/Achumawi/texts.html

Your comments are welcome. As of this writing, sections 4 and 8 do not yet exist, and what has been written needs more review and revision, but this may well have changed by the time you read this.

I have made some changes in the database in the course of this. I have not updated the webonary.